The question about Hannah Brooks Birthday? There are two different books that have her birthday recorded. The article that Margaret K Baumeister wrote for the "Transaction of the Huguenot Society" has May 29, 1782 (see atch A) The "Ancestry of William Clopton" has 29 May 1789(see atch B). Margaret's article has references identified, therefore you would have a tendency to think it might be correct. So where could you possibly find a third source to see which it agreed with. Could Harrett Elizabeth Jones have recorded in her Family Bible her son's wife's grandmother's birthday (see atch C?) The answer is yes (see atch D.) HEJK's family bible has Hannah Brooks' birthday as May 29, 1789. QED

I suspect the problem started with some one misreading a hand written 9 for a 2.

Abraham was among the signers of Petition of Queens Co. to Lord Howe, Oct. 21, 1776 with others of the name of Leverich and Moore, which pledged allegiance to King George III and considered the union of the colonies with the parent State essential to their wellbeing. (American Archives, Ser. V, vol. 2, p. 1159-1164, quoted by Flint, Martha B., "Early Long Island, a Colonial Study", p. 510 et seq.)

In the will of Nathaniel Moore, Sr. of Newtown, Yeoman, Mary's father, Mar. 5, 1796, pro. Apr. 27, 1802, Abraham's children are heirs and Abraham a witness. (Sawyer, vol. 1, p. 60)

Abraham's son, Abraham⁶ Berrien was a cartman, 1801-1817, a grocer 1818-1820 (N. Y. C. Directories); appointed Mar. 17, 1821 1st Lt., 2nd Regt. of Horse Artillery, Westchester Co., signed by Gov. De Witt Clinton. (Westchester Co. Historical Society, Quarterly Bull., vol. 17-19, p. 47; Council of Appointment, vol. 3, p. 2286)

The name Abraham was carried down from the progenitor of the Rikers, Abraham Rycken from Holland, whose obelisk monument stood in the center of the walled-in Riker cemetery in Queens.

Nathaniel⁶ Berrien's widow, Deborah Leverich, lived with their grandson Samuel Leverich Berrian and his wife Zilpha in her latter years. (From Ethel Berrian Reinberg)

PETER⁴ BERRIEN, SON OF CORNELIUS³ BERRIEN AND SARAH HALLETT

His Children, Selected Grandchildren and Great-Grandchildren

As has been previously traced in Section I: Peter⁴ Berrien bap. Aug. 19, 1739 in Newtown Presbyterian Ch.; m. first Dec. 22, 1763, Hannah Campbell, Spinster of N. Y. at the R. D. Ch., N. Y. That his Marriage Bond, vol. VII, p. 578 designates him as "Peter Berrien Jr." has thrown many researchers into confusion. The signed statement by Mr. Kenn Stryker-Rodda of the N. Y. G. & B. Society, explains this use of "Jr." for a younger member of a family, wherein an older, more prominent member bore the same name, was generally acceptable in the Dutch colonies, and continued so to be used for some period. (See p. 53) Of this marriage there was but one child:

A Sarah⁵ (Peter⁴ Cornelius³ John² Cornelis¹) Berrien b. Sept. 29, 1764, bap. Oct. 14, 1764, Pres. Ch. N. Y. (N. Y. G. & B. Rec. vol. 5, p. 186), d. Sept. 10, 1827, m. Jul. 17, 1783 (M. Bond vol. XXXIX, p. 94) Daniel James Brooks (named for a maternal uncle in Phila-

"Jr." means only "younger," and was commonly borne by the younger of two persons of identical name living in the same area, where father - and - son, uncle - and - nephew, or cousins, could become confused.
